The Suit Memo

1. Philemon takes great care of the suit, as if it were a visitor in their household. He does not seem bothered by its presence and uses it as an instrument to humiliate his wife.
2. The suit is a symbol of his wife's betrayal and infidelity.
3. It makes her feel humiliated/embarrassed.
4. The suit is a constant reminder of her infidelity and represents the third party who has not left their marriage.
5. Philemon's morning ritual consisted of him waking up and admiring his sleeping wife. After preparing all he needed for the day and thoroughly washing himself, he prepares breakfast to take to his wife in bed.
6. An old man by the name of Maphikela informed Philemon of his wife's suspected infidelity.
7. They travel to work together on a daily basis and Maphikela shares news with Philemon. He is a "daily bulletin" in Philemon's daily routine.
8. He rushed straight into his bedroom and saw his wife with another man in bed. He seemed unaffected by this sight and proceeded looking for his pass.
