

Kensuke's Kingdom

by Michael Morpurgo

Chapter 5: I, Kensuke

1. What was the man like? Describe him.
Old, wore tattered breeches, large knife, thin, skin in folds, wispy white hair on head and chin.
2. How did Kensuke explain what he wanted Michael to do?
Drew a map in the sand.
3. What was odd about his writing?
Wrote in columns, from right to left.
4. What did he decided to do as he remembered what was in his pocket?
To light a fire somewhere where the old man wouldn't discover it.
5. Did Michael believe the old man would hurt him?
No, but he was frightened.
6. Why did he often think about going into the old man's part of the island?
To look for water.
7. What did he do with the fruit he didn't like very much?
Ate it still - had to, to survive.
8. Why couldn't he bring himself to save the red bananas?
Too delicious not to eat all at once.
9. What was the biggest problem at night?
The mosquitoes.
10. What was the only thing he could do to relieve the itchiness and pain of these sores?
Dunk himself in the sea.
11. What was Stella's best moment of the day?
Swimming when Michael would throw sticks for her.

12. What did he find outside his cave 1 day?
Roll of rush matting and a white sheet.
13. What did he do with the gift?
Took it into the cave, lay down and curled up in it, giggling with joy.
14. How would it help in his fight against the mosquitoes?
Would cover his body, not let the mozzies through.
15. What did he finally see as he looked up while on the hilltop?
A ship, a super tanker.
